

How to adapt to stay healthy

Drought may cause lack of clean water access in rural areas, consuming this water will lead to diarrhea and potentially bigger health problems

Consume well done food, clean food, do not eat spoil food and avoid contact with flies

Do not directly drink flowing or static water from nature

Collect or store clean water to use

Boil water from stream, gravity system or natural sources before drink or drink pure water

Wash your hands after using toilet, prepare food with vigilance before consumption
